

SWADE SPACE / ISSUE 001

The Inaugural SwadeSpace Transmission

Harold Whaley's gateway for bringing creators, entrepreneurs, brands and communities into the new space economy prepared.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Space is becoming a working economy for culture, data, research, brands and infrastructure. SwadeSpace helps you enter informed, prepared and honest about cost, rights and risk.

A message from Harold Whaley

Why SwadeSpace exists

Space is becoming a working economy, but too many capable people still see it as something reserved for astronauts, governments or billionaires. SwadeSpace was created to translate the opportunity, prepare serious candidates and help culture, business, technology and legacy projects enter the right conversations with substance.

The next level

The plan is to combine education, qualification, project development, verified digital identity and carefully structured introductions. Candidates learn the language, define what they own, build a mission file and enter private review with a clear purpose, budget, timeline and Earth-side outcome.

Founder profile: Harold 'Swade Soul' Whaley

Service and systems thinking

Harold Whaley Jr. is an 11-year U.S. Navy veteran whose Operations Specialist experience trained him to understand complex information, situational awareness, coordination and mission readiness. That systems mindset now shapes the SwadeSpace preparation model.

Music, media and culture

Known professionally as Swade Soul, Whaley is an award-winning music producer, songwriter and musician with experience connected to Solar Records and Death Row Records. He helped advance urban online radio and now leads creative platforms spanning music, television, streaming, books, podcasts, video and virtual worlds.

Technology and ownership

Whaley is an early crypto participant, NFT creator and AI-music entrepreneur. His work connects provenance, digital assets, automation, creator ownership and new distribution models. He has developed blockchain and NFT projects, including work associated with prominent artists, athletes and the American Basketball Association ecosystem.

Enterprise leadership

Through Swade Soul Enterprise, ABAGALE TV and a growing network of creator and technology projects, Whaley builds systems meant to turn ideas into sustainable businesses. His role in SwadeSpace is cultural translator, qualification strategist, ecosystem connector and project-readiness guide.

The partnership structure

Copernic Space

The Copernic Space relationship provides the private space-commerce context that SwadeSpace candidates are preparing to understand. SwadeSpace education or qualification does not replace Copernic's independent approval, current terms or mission requirements.

LANSKI Vision Space

LANSKI Vision Space is positioned as a supporting partner in the broader effort to develop vision, presentation, opportunity pathways and mission-facing concepts that help move qualified projects from inspiration toward structured review.

Afro Astro Inc.

Afro Astro Inc. is positioned as a supporting partner helping bring the SwadeSpace vision to life through space-focused collaboration, project development and the practical work required to connect promising ideas with credible next steps.

One coordinated gateway

The goal is a coordinated pipeline: educate the candidate, define the asset, confirm rights, shape the mission purpose, develop the technical and commercial file, review readiness and introduce only qualified opportunities into the appropriate partner conversation.

What comes next

The Academy

SwadeSpace provides a plain-language academy covering rockets, payloads, satellites, data, rights, risk, budgets, human spaceflight and mission readiness.

The Mission Concept Lab

Creators and organizations can explore cultural, brand, data, research and legacy pathways, then build the documents required for private analysis.

The weekly transmission

Future issues will report space breakthroughs, SwadeSpace and partner developments, mission-readiness lessons and practical ecosystem tools that help subscribers move their projects forward.
